

Strengthening the Parent-Teacher Partnership

Real-Time Student Data + Insights from Home = Effective Partnership!

Grades and attendance are reported from existing school systems, provided in context, and made easy to understand

Parents or Guardians can share their thoughts, ideas, and observations for each of their students

On-going, informed discussions about how to best support student learning in school and at home!

The convenience, tools, and context that create informed dialogue between school and home

With OPUS, Parents become part of a more integrated student support system.

- Safely share pertinent information about your child to impact student performance
- Receive timely updates on your child's progress
- Communicate with teachers as a partner in your child's success

Teachers can make the most of their time to build relationships with parents.

- Reduce the workload of family communication with new tools that leverage existing systems
- Understand how learning occurs at home.
- Secure, simplified, documented dialogue with parents

Administrators can create a true platform for family engagement.

- Have immediate and transparent access to two-way parent-teacher communications
- Identify potential issues with parents, students, and teachers before they become problems
- Understand the impact of parent-teacher partnerships with data and analytics never previously available

Cultivate the partnerships that matter most to your families!

